MR. PATTERSON MEANT WHAT HE SAID.

The following tribute to a well known and meritorious preparation will be read with pleasure by all who are suffering from pulonary complaints themselves, or have monary complaints themselves, or have monary complaints themselves, or have friends so afflicted:

I hereby certify that my boy, ten rears of age, was taken sick with typhoid feter, followed by congestion of the jungs. Dr. Dyer, an emment physician of this place, stated that he thought the hoy would run down with DHCK CONSUMPTION. A Mr. Patterson told me that COF'S COUGH BALSAM was carring similar cases, and advised me to purchase it. When I carried it home, my wite laughed at me; but I knew that Mr. Patterson MEANT JUST WHAT HE SAID, and I determined tertry it. Two bottles effectually carred him, so that now he is as tough and mentity as anybody.

The Catholic Fair. Last evening was the first night of the Catholic fair and festival, given at the tabernacle by the ladies of the congregation for the benefit of St. Patrick's Church. The names of the lady managers have so often appeared in these columns in connection with past fairs, that careful readers of the Rarustican ought to be familiar with them. They were out in full force again last night, and all worked shoulder to shoulder for the good of the cause, while Father Mackin and Father Lammert moved about quietly chatting pleasantly with visiters and members of their separate charges. There were the usual number of supper, ice cream, confection, lemonade, flower, cake and fancy work tables and stands, and though the crowd in attendance was is a bright future before Miss Leonard as not as large as on former occasions, the a vocalist. She is the fortunate possessor of a s'rong, clear voice, and what is more fortunate, it is under perfect control. She retired amidst a shower of applause, but failed to respond to the recall. "Rell on Silver Moon." was a Tyrolean warble solo given by Mr. George W. Pearl, who is a locomotive engineer on the Wabash. It must be heard to be appreciated. It was rendered with trilling variations, and carned a hearty recall, to which Mr. Pearl gracefully responded by giving one verse of another lively ballad. TWO DISTRESSING ACCIDENTS.

One Last Evening on the Wabash, and Another at a Factory this Morning.

ALECK DANIEL'S TRACIU DEATH.

One of those dreadful accidents which never fail to cause a chill of horror to run through the human frame, occurred on yesterday afternoon between three and 'our o'clock, on the main line of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific Railway, at the north end of Merchant Alley, between Water and Main streets. The victim was a young man named Alexander Daniel, a brother-in-law of Henry Cowan, janitor of the tabernacle, and a brother of Samuel Daniel, an employe at the St. Nicholas Hotel. The deceased came here from Oakland, Coles county, Ill., on Tuesday night, in company with another young man named Thomas Clark, and intended to return to Oakland last evening. Daniel was robbed of a watch and some money, on the Central railroad south of the city, some time last July, by Elmer Houser, Robert Hellernan and Charles Beauchamp. The robbers were captured, but in jailing them it will be remembered that Marshal Baker injured himself in a grand tumble down an embankment. Beauchamp was sent to Joliet at the last December term of court, but Heffernan and Houser got a continuance until the present term. Daniel same here expressly for the purpose of testifying against the prisoners, and made a statement to Judge Smith in court on yesterday morning;

it appears he mistook the westbound 8. Mairppy 2.5. by 3.5.

Shellabarger & Co.'s mill, who was standing 100 yards distant and witnessed the accident, was the first man to reach the spot where Daniel fell and where he died in less than ten minutes after the train passed. Hudson swore that the train at the time was running at the rate of about 15 miles per hour, and the other witnesses testified to the same effect with respect to the speed of the train. New Postal Agreement.

New York Commercial Bulletin

The new articles of postal agreement between Canada and the United States provide, in effect: 1. That insufficiently prepaid letters in Canada for the United States, and in the United States for Canada, will be sent forward to the address if prepaid one full fare, leaving the deficient postage to be collected on delivery. 2. That the Canada postoffice may charge double rates on United States printed matter brought into Canada and posted for distribution in the linited States in order to evade the United States postal law. This latter provision is made in consequence of a practice which has begun to assume considerable proportions. The Canada postal rate on certain classes of printed circulars would send them to Canada for their distribution in the United States, in order to take advantage of the lower rates of Canadian postage. The new arrangement will take effect immediately.

THE reports from an impartial observer at Albaoy all agree as to the probabili-ty of a dead-lock that may last all summer, and indefinitely. The New York Herald says: "It is evident that a political organization of Mr. Conkling 8 opponents has been effected, which is quite as much of a machine in the temporary perfection of its movements as ever his supporters were accused of running. But, as yet, the sole bond of union is mere opposition. It is a mere combination which is perfectly described by the backneyed illustration of the Adullamites. It comprises men who never co-operated heartily before in any common political enterprise, and perhaps never will again. Its principal directors are political friends of Mr. Blaine and partisans of railroad interests; but for the immediate purpose of its existence that does not deter a minority of anti-monopolists and independents and former stalwarts from harmonious co-operation."
